Senior Living and Healthcare

Tabletop solutions for dynamic dining programs

More than a meal

In senior living and healthcare, meals are more than just nutrition. For residents, they're a gateway to community, to wellness, to socialization.

A strong dining program is crucial for resident satisfaction. Meeting residents needs can help improve retention and help recruit new residents.

As the industry leader in healthcare, Libbey® has the tabletop solutions to help you exceed resident expectations as you upgrade your dining program. Our wide selection of dinnerware, glassware, flatware and buffetware is designed to give residents and enjoyable dining experience.

Whatever your community's goals, Libbey® can help you bring comfort, beauty and enjoyment to every meal.

Products that work harder for you

You pride yourself on a lively dining program – so you need tableware built for the everyday hustle and bustle of senior living and healthcare settings. Our wide selection of durable drinkware, dinnerware and serveware is ideal for high-volume and outdoor environments and can stand up to drops, dishwashers and day-to-day wear and tear.

Infinium® premium plastic drinkware is a lightweight glassware substitute that ensures you'll never sacrifice beauty for durability. With a glasslike appearance and dozens of shapes to choose from, Infinium® is practically unbreakable, easy to carry, and resistant to cracks, stains and odors.

Infinium® Wake™ brings stackable options into the mix, making bussing and storage more efficient. Its distinctive textured design is easy to grip, so your residents can drink more confidently, with reduced risk of dropping and breakage.

Melamine

Melamine is another highly durable, lightweight choice for busy senior living and healthcare settings that offers a high-end experience wherever it goes. Our easy-to-wash melamine dinnerware offers bright contrast with an array of bold colors, while melamine serving trays mimic wood, slate and marble for an elegant buffet or table service. Their faux finishes make a statement while making serving easy for your staff.

 Look for this icon on all melamine products.

Resident safety is your No. 1 priority.

That's why we developed the first-ever porcelain dinnerware with integrated Microban technology, delivering 24/7 antimicrobial product protection, effective against a broad spectrum of bacteria.*

The Benefit of Proactive Defense

- Plays an important role in combatting improper adherence to cleaning procedures, supporting a system of cleanliness that complements employee hygiene requirements to meet cleanliness regulations
- Contributes to a cleaner surface by inhibiting the growth of bacteria* – an added level of defense to the inherent protection of the fully vitrified glaze
- Won't contribute to surface-to-surface microbial growth

*Applies only to bacteria that can cause stains, odors and product degradation.

Why it Matters

From dining service to buffets and in-room service, cleanliness challenges can jeopardize your reputation and success.

From dining service to buffets and room service, the journey of dinnerware to the patron includes numerous touchpoints where the product may come into contact with bacteria – during storage, plating, serving and everything in-between.

- Presence of bacteria was ranked as the top food safety concern by foodservice professionals like you, followed closely by cross contamination
- Loss or damaged reputation ranked the most worrisome consequence
- Employee hygiene and handling ranked the most at-risk food safety concerns

For more information on the effectiveness of Microban technology, contact your Libbey sales representative. Does not protect people from food-borne pathogens. Microban is a registered trademark of Microban Products Company.

How It Works

Microban protection uses natural, silver-based technology that penetrates the cell wall of the microorganism hindering its ability to function, grow or reproduce, thus controlling odors, stains and product deterioration.

On an untreated surface, bacteria can double every 20 minutes. Microban technology begins working immediately.

Senior Living & Assisted Living

Today's seniors are active, more educated, sophisticated and better traveled than any generation before. They have experienced the finest food and drink the world has to offer. Now they have decided where the next chapter will take them, they're looking for more than a place to live – they're looking for a place where life is celebrated to the fullest.

Fulfilling resident experience begins with dining, and expectations are higher than ever. Restaurant-inspired menus, a focus on local ingredients, and endless variety and customization are key to satisfy discerning residents and their families.

Libbey has an unmatched selection of beautiful and functional tabletop solutions to fit your community's needs. We can help you create a culture of hospitality that offers the luxury of the world's best restaurants and the comforts of a home cooked meal.

Stemless style

Casual and modern stemless glassware is an always-versatile, easy-to-grip option for fine wines as well as water, juice and soda. A low center of gravity helps prevent tipping, too.

INSPIRED DESIGNS, EXCEPTIONAL DURABILITY

Our 18/8 selection delivers true investment-quality flatware that elevates the way your guests connect to the tabletop experience. Their added weight and strength creates the impression of quality from the first touch. Made from type 304 stainless steel, our 18/8 offering features an 8-12% nickel content that gives stainless steel a brighter shine and additional protection against rust and corrosion

Colorful plates, confident diners

Could the color of your dinnerware improve your residents' nutrition? A 2004 Boston University study found that patients with advanced Alzheimer's ate 25% more from a red plate than they did from a white one – suggesting that the contrast between food and plate acts as a visual aid for diners with special needs.

With a range of bold and calming colors to choose from, we can help you create presentations that are not only beautiful, but that give your residents increased confidence at the table.

Dignified drinkware

Various conditions can take a toll on grip strength as we age, but that shouldn't keep your residents from enjoying a drink with dignity and confidence. Our curated selection of glassware and premium plastic drinkware accommodates a range of senior needs with discrete details that help prevent spills and breakage while giving residents the hydration they need to stay healthy and active.

Easy-to-grip grooves

These modern designs feature indentations that help reduce hand fatigue.

Smaller sizes

Lower-capacity drinkware is easy to carry and supports nutritional needs.
